ADVANCED CRASH INVESTIGATION

Date: October 29 – November 2, 2012
Location: Pierre

This 40 hour course is third in the series of accident classes. It deals heavily in the dynamics and physics of vehicle crashes. Extensive work is done with crash formulae. Also included is work on motorcycle crashes, motor carrier crashes, and head light and tail light examination. This course is open to officers who have completed the Intermediate Accident School and who possess a working knowledge of mathematics.

TRAFFIC SUPERVISORS COURSE

Date: November 5 – 9, 2012
Location: Pierre

This course will focus on the development of new and innovative traffic safety programs and the reevaluation of current campaigns. Officers will learn how to use a data driven approach to identify traffic problems and develop comprehensive programs. Officers will learn the elements of program development and grant concept development through focused problem identification, setting goals, objectives, developing action items, evaluation methods, public information and education and milestone charts to track the progress of the traffic safety program. They will also explore leadership styles and methods for building both multi-disciplinary and multi-agency approaches. Although not designed as a grant writing course, the class follows the elements of concept paper development through presentation for highway safety grant submission. Local and state funded highway safety programs will be analyzed along with the federal agencies and legislation that guide highway safety funding. Working in a small group environment, officers will take part in a project development where you will identify a traffic problem and develop a comprehensive staff report response and make a mock staff presentation. It is recommended that students have a laptop computer capable of wireless connection, word processing and PowerPoint presentation capabilities.
